Missouri Birth and Death Database, pre-1910

Missouri Death Certificates, 1910 - 1967

The Missouri Birth and Death Records Database is an abstract of the birth, stillbirth, and death records recorded before 1909 and that are available on microfilm at the Missouri State Archives. (See Brief History of Vital Records in Missouri)

The Bureau of Vital Records has certificates of Missouri births from 1910 to the present. The Bureau also maintains certificates of Missouri deaths that are less than fifty years old. House Bill 1634 (2004) transferred all death records over fifty years old to the Missouri State Archives (Search Missouri Death Certificate)

The database currently contains over 185,000 records from 87 counties. Information found in this database includes:

Births and Stillbirths: name of child, date and place of birth, sex, and race; nationality, residence, and ages of parents, occupation and full name of father, maiden name of mother, name and address of medical or other attendant making return; in case of stillbirth, name of undertaker and place of burial.

Deaths: date of report, name, sex, color, age, occupation, marital status, nationality, birthplace; date, place, and cause of death; date and place of burial, addresses of undertaker, physician returning certificate.

[Search Tip]

The Birth and Death Records Database can be searched by entering all or part of a name. It is recommended to enter just the last name. The search engine is designed to search for keywords. Entering "William" will find records containing the first or last name of "William", "Williams", or "Williamson." The birth and stillbirth records search the name of the child, mother's name, mother's maiden name, and name of father. All records for a county can also be viewed by selecting the county and leaving the name blank.

Statewide registration of deaths began in 1909 in Missouri. Counties have copies of these records.

Next Step: When did the death occur?

Choose a time period to search for your ancestor's death record:

Deaths before 1909

Before 1883, no deaths were recorded by the county or state, exceptions being the cities of St. Louis (beginning in 1850) and Kansas City (beginning in 1874). In most cases, you must search substitute records to locate your ancestor's death date and place. In 1883, Missouri law required counties to record deaths, although records are incomplete. The practice continued for ten years and stopped in 1893. Deaths were not recorded for most places in Missouri between 1893 and 1909.

Deaths before 1890

Death registrations began officially in 1903 by the county and state. A few stray death registrations and delayed death records were created from 1890s-1990, as reported from obituaries and probate records. These delayed death registrations are grouped with the regular death certificates.

If you cannot find your ancestor's death record before 1903, you may wish to search substitute records to locate your ancestor's death date and place.

Texas Deaths, 1890-1976

Description

Index and images of Texas statewide death certificates--including delayed certificates, foreign deaths, and probate obituaries--from the Texas Department of State Health Services in Austin. The delayed records are grouped with regular death certificates and, although frequently located in the final few volumes of a given year, can sometimes be found interspersed throughout a volume set.

Choose a State

Many of our county sites have been housed on Rootsweb for many years. Our sites were taken down while Rootsweb works on issues in their system. If you are unable to locate a site via any previous bookmark, please locate the state from either our drop down menu or the linked U.S. map below, then navigate to the county using that state's counties information. Some sites are linked to a system called the Wayback Machine temporarily as we await the county going back online through Rootsweb, or to a new hosting location. We apologize for the delay but hope you will continue to visit our sites regularly.

Using RootsMagic With FamilySearch

One of the many strong points of RootsMagic is its ability to work with FamilySearch without leaving RootsMagic. It is very easy to exchange data between RootsMagic and FamilySearch without re-typing it. It is also easy to add a new individual from RootsMagic directly into FamilySearch.
